

For Consumer Health Services:
Banks Willis
202-715-1536
banks.willis@dittus.com

Matthew Duch
212-850-5758
matthew.duch@fd.com

WILLIAM A. HASELTINE JOINS CONSUMER HEALTH SERVICES' BOARD OF DIRECTORS

WASHINGTON, D.C. – September 28, 2007 – Consumer Health Services Inc. (CHS), the nation's premier manager of on-site physician-centric consumer health care clinics, today announced the addition of William A. Haseltine, Ph.D., to its Board of Directors (BOD).

"The addition of Dr. Haseltine bolsters the expertise and prestige of our Board of Directors, and will prove valuable as CHS works to expand our physician-centric, consumer-based health delivery model," said James D'Orta, M.D., chairman of Consumer Health Services. "His background as a pioneer of new medicines and medical devices, coupled with his extensive medical knowledge and long history of involvement with emerging medicines is a welcomed addition to our Board of Directors."

William A. Haseltine, Ph.D. is chairman of Haseltine Global Health, LLC, a virtual pharmaceutical company dedicated to developing new and more efficient means to develop new life-saving drugs and medical devices. He is also president of the Haseltine Foundation for Medical Sciences and the Arts, a foundation that supports access to high-quality health for the poor and middle class of developing countries. He is an adjunct professor at The Scripps Institute for Medical Research.

Haseltine was a professor at Harvard Medical School from 1976-1993 where he was the chair of two academic research departments. He is well known for his pioneering work on cancer and HIV/AIDS; is the founder of Human Genome Sciences, Inc and served as the chairman and CEO of the company until 2004; is the founder of seven other successful biotechnology companies; and serves as an advisor to CMEA, a venture capital company, and to several biotechnology and pharmaceutical companies.

"CHS' goal of expanding access to affordable and high-quality health care to the masses is one that I not only share but am passionate about," Haseltine said. "I am honored to join a Board of Directors with such high-profile members, and I look forward to increasing and growing CHS' services throughout the United States."

Haseltine joins board members James A. D'Orta, M.D., chairman of CHS; John P. McDaniel, CEO of Medstar Health, Inc., a not-for-profit health care organization comprised of seven Mid-Atlantic hospitals and health care businesses including Georgetown University Hospital in Washington, D.C.; Steven Kelmar, executive vice president of Merck, Inc; and Todd Marshall, chairman and founder of the Marshal Retail Group.

About Consumer Health Services:

Launched in 2006, Consumer Health Services, Inc. (CHS) has emerged as the nation's premier manager of on-site consumer health centers. CHS implements its model through extensive collaboration and work with leading, Insurance Companies, local health care delivery systems, doctors, nurses, physician assistants to offer quick, convenient, physician-directed care for individuals where they shop, where they work and where they travel. Today, more national retailers, like Duane Reade based in New York City, hospitality companies and large employers are turning to CHS as a partner of choice to launch and manage successful consumer health centers that deliver an exceptional customer experience. To learn more about CHS, visit us online at www.chscorp.com.

###